

SAN DIEGO COUNTY LAW ENFORCEMENT EXPLORER ADVISORS ASSOCIATION

PERMISSION SLIP

During the Explorer Academy, Explorers will be trained on the effects of Oleoresin Capsicum (OC), otherwise known as pepper spray / pepper ball training. The Explorers will conduct a simple walk-through of the “gas house” and will proceed to a decontamination area. OC is non-toxic, non-flammable, and is made from food grade ingredients. OC is used in law enforcement to distract the suspect during a physical altercation and Officers, as well as Explorers, may come in contact with the chemical agent. Experiencing the effects of OC in a safe and controlled environment will prevent accidents or panic out on the field. The Explorers will learn how to deal with and react to the chemical agent in a safe and tactical manner. On some occasions, OC has been known to cause irritation to the eyes, vomiting, a “burning” sensation, coughing, and irritation of the skin. For the safety of the Explorers, a trained and certified medical staff will be standing by during the training.
